earlier today

Murray almost got away, but I stopped him by shooting a big chunk of ice above him. The ice landed on him and knocked him out! All of the kids congratulated me.

You'll never believe what happened to me today! Murray planted a bomb in the school, and then he locked me inside of a little room with Erica who was unconscious because Murray hit her! When the timer had 7 seconds left, I knocked out the timer and Erica finally woke up and cut the wires! We stopped the bomb from exploding and destroying the school!

What's the deal with trying to attack me today? I was just trying to disable that bomb!

Ben Ripley I don't know what I was thinking! Sorry, dude! The principal sent me to "The Box." I had to stay there overnight. It was awful! Like Edit Delete

I was in a paintball war today, and I saw Chip sneak into a shed. I followed him through a labyrinth. There was a bomb, and I thought Chip was going to use it against our school. Turns out, he was just disabling the bomb!

Hey Ben! Did you really fight off an assassin the other day?

Like Comment Edit Delete

Ben Ripley yes, and with a tennis racket too! Like Edit Delete Chip Who was the assassin?

I had my first spy school test today, but I didn't even know it was a test! The goal was to fight off the fake bad guys. If I got them all, I would have gotten an A+. I got a D-. I have never gotten below a B in my life!
